Note

Recommendations for the continuance of the scholarships (medical) have been disposed of on their own merits, the circumstances under which such recommendations are made being varied

The following cases have now to be considered —

1) V Krishna Rao, F A

Serial No 3

Was given a scholarship for the M B & C M Course in 1895

In July 1896 he failed to pass the Preliminary scientific Exam^n and the scholarship was stopped changed for the L M S Course was again granted a scholarship for the years from 1st april 1898

Passed the 1st L M S in april 1899

See 48 & 49

Failed in the 2nd L M S in april 1900

Present Communication

The D G recommends the continuance of the scholarship up to the end of april 1902 Senior Surgeon also recommends the continuance

2) T Perumalu Nayudu 3 A

Serial No 35

was given a scholarship in 1897 for 5 years from 1st Aug 1897 C.F.O.

(J Perumal Naydu Contd)

failed in the 1st Yr B & C in Examn of 1898 (april) 97

scholarship Continued

Passed the 1st Yr B & C in Exam in april 1899

failed in the IInd Yr B & C in Exam of april 1900

The D/L recommends the Continuance of the scholarship only for 4 years (and not longer under any circumstances) from ~~1st April~~ May 1900 to 30 april 1904

see serial Nos 4624

3) Harpur Raja Rao

was given a scholarship from 1st July 1898

Passed the 1st Yr B & C in in april 1899

Failed in the IInd Yr B & C in in april 1900

The D/L recommends the Continuance of the scholarship ~~exactly~~ under with conditions similar to those laid in the case of J Perumal Naydu

Sir

I have the honour to inform you that recommendations for renewal of scholarships have been received from the Principal of the Medical College in behalf of the marginally named Mysore State Scholars.

1 V Krishna Rao
2 T Perumal Mayadee
3 Kanjur Raja Rao

2 In the case of V Krishna Rao after he had satisfactorily completed the First Year course Government sanctioned the award to him of a scholarship of Rs 25 for three years from the 1st April 1898 by Order No 15919-21 dated 6th June 1898 (Ed 49-98-8 / Ed 7 15-96) He passed the First L M S Examination in April 1899 and was a Third Year L M S student last Session. He went up for the Second

L M S Examination and failed by deficiency in total marks. After passing the Second L M S Examination in April 1901 he has to pass the Final L M.S in April 1902. Under these circumstances I recommend that his scholarship may be allowed to continue to end of April 1902 The Senior Surgeon also recommends the continuance.

3 T Perumal Rayudu joined the M B, C M Class in August 1897 as a Mysore scholar. He appeared for the First M B C M Examination in April 1898 and failed to pass. Government having Kindly allowed his scholarship to continue by Order No $\frac{\text{Ed } 7 \text{ } 15\text{-}96}{+15\text{-}198\text{-}99}$ $\frac{20\ 49\text{-}97\text{-}6}{}$ dated 20th May 1898, he passed the First M. B C M Examination in April 1899. He appeared for the Second M B C M Examination in April 1900 and failed to pass. If he passes the Second M B C M Examination in April 1901, he will after that have to pass the Third M B C M Examination in April 1903 and the Final M B C M Examination in April 1904. He has thus three more examinations to pass in the next four years. It seems to me doubtful if he will pass each of these examinations in due course without failure. He now applies for a continuance of his scholarship for four years more to end of April 1904

4 Harpur Raja P. joined the M B C M Class of the Medical College in July 1898 as a Hyderabad scholar, and passed the First M B C M Examination in April 1899. He appeared for the Second M B C M Examination of April 1900 and failed to pass His case is analogous to that of T Perumal Naya-du except in this respect that he passed the First M B C M Examination the first time he appeared for it he has to pass three more examinations in the next four years and requires a renewal of his scholarship at least till April 1904

5 The course for the M B C M Degree has been lately extended to one of six years after passing the F A. Examination, and four Medical examinations have to be passed after passing the F A. Examination at the end of the 1st, 3rd, 5th, and 6th year of study in the Medical College For every failure the course is extended by at least one year The cases of T Perumal Nayudu and Karpur Raja Rao are therefore very hard. It is difficult to recommend that their scholarship should continue for an indefinite length of time till they pass

the Final M B C M Examination.
Under these circumstances I would recommend that T Perumal Nayudu and Karpur Raja Rao be given a scholarship of Rs 25 a month, tenable for four years from 1st May 1900 to 30 April 1904, irrespective of their succes-or failure at future examinations, at the discretion of the Principal of the Medical College should he consider the continuance of the scholarship advisable But they should be made to understand clearly that if they fail to pass the Final M B C M Examination by April 1904, after that date they should continue their study without the help of a scholarship at their own cost

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
H J Bhabha
Inspector General

SIR,

With reference to para 5 of my letter No 11179/530 dated 21st May 1900 I have the honour to correct an error which has inadvertently crept into it. The course for the M B & M Degree Examination has not been extended to six years, though four medical examinations have to be passed before the degree can be obtained. All the examinations can be passed within a period of five years
